CEAS 710

Center for East Asian Studies - Rsh Design Intrntl Area Stdes (3) Spring 2021

This course addresses the challenges for students engaged in graduate research projects and theses in an interdisciplinary and international context. The course will guide the students through the structures of research design processes for various epistemological approaches, and will assist students in formulating strong research questions, reviewing and situating their own work within the literature, working with the library and subject librarians, appropriating theory, and modeling writing conventions for research within their selected epistemological community. Students will also be exposed to a variety of research methods and will practice designing projects utilizing a select number of them. During the course of the semester, students will be working toward a plan for a substantial graduate research project. (Same as GIST 710 and LAA 710.) Prerequisite: Consent of instructor.

HA 544

History of Art - Manga: Histories and Theories (3 / H) Spring 2021

Manga (Japanese comics) have long been an extremely popular and influential medium in Japan and internationally. Manga offer engaging narratives and visual imagery revealing central concerns not only of Japanese culture, history, society and politics, but also of the global cultural industry. The medium has been studied through various disciplinary lenses ranging from art history to visual culture and media studies, literature, sociology, and anthropology. Through the examination of several manga artists and works from the late 19th century to the present as well as reading a broad range of scholarship, this course explores the major issues addressed and theoretical approaches used in the interdisciplinary study of manga. The course is taught at the 300 and 500-levels with additional work required at the 500-level. Not open to students with credit in HA 344. Prerequisite: A college level introduction to Asian art history or Asian studies, or consent of instructor.

History of Art - Ceramics of East Asia (3 / H / NW) Spring 2021

This course explores the history of East Asian ceramics from the 10th to the late 20th century. Using critical approaches from art history, anthropology, sociology, literature, and materials science, students discuss the historiography and connoisseurship as well as the production, design, and consumption of ceramics such as Yaozhou celadon, Temmoku and Raku tea bowls, stamped and slip-brushed Punch'ng ware, and Ming blue-and-white porcelain. This is a hybrid course, which means that most of the material and assignments of the course are online. However, students are required to participate in 6-7 field trips, including trips to the Spencer Museum of Art, the kilns located on campus, and a demonstration of the Japanese tea ceremony. This course is offered at the 300 and 500 level with additional assignments at the 500 level. Not open to students with credit in HA 347.
